The Board of Estima's yesterday requested the Sinking Fund Commissioners to lease the buildings on Ward's Island for the use of the insane under the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Correc-tion. The Controller was authorized to issue revenue bonds to the amount of $145,901 to meet the extra amount allowed to the Board of Education. The Controller was also authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $189,096 62, at not more than 4 per cent amount of $189,000 bz, at not more than a per cent and payable in not more than twenty years, in order to pay the awards and expenses in improving Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek. President Simmons, of the Board of Education, said that a transfer could be made which would enable the Board by a majority vote to increase the appropriation for the salaries of teachers and professors in the Normal College. President Coleman, of the Tax Department, had voted against making this increase at the last meeting of the Board. President Simmons asked that a transfer of $6,367 26 be made from the appropriation of $10,000 granted for technical and manual education for gills to the appropriation for malaries of the Normal College. Commissioner Wood said that the Board of Education would not be able to gut the proposed studies in effect until the beginning of the school term on February 1, 1888, so that the appropriation of $10,000 would not be needed until then. The subject was referred to the Controller. From the Excise moneys $70,846 66 was appropriated to various charitable institutions for the appropriated to the appropriation for deficiencies for 1886 for the same purpose for October, November and December. The Board declined to pay the bills for refreshments turnished on the order of the Police Commissioners on the night of election in 1885 and 1886.

Commissioners on the night of election in 1880 and 1886.

A long letter was received from Register Slevin, saying that he was unable to perform the work of the office in the time allowed by law. He has only twelve searchers, while the last Register had twenty-two. Since January 1, 3,000 requisitions have been made and the office is now 1,040 behind. The trouble was caused by insufficient appropriations. There should be at least twenty searchers. President Beekman said that he had given the subject carcul attention and thought the Register's complaint was a just one. He favored opening the final estimates to provide for an additional appropriation for the Register. The subject was referred to the Controller to report whether there is any fund from which a transfer can be made for the Register.

THE ABSENT WALTER E. LAWTON'S PAPER. J. H. KEENE, JR., THINKS THAT WITH GOOD MAN-

AGEMENT IT CAN ALL BE MET. John Henry Keene, jr., of Baltimore, counsel of the New-York banks holding the indorsement of the Navassa Phosphate Company upon the paper of Walter E. Lawton, the absent president of the company, said yesterday that after a careful investigation he believes the paper with the Navassa Company's indorsement can't exceed $150,000. The Navassa Gompany's indorsement can't exceed $150,000. The Navassa Gompany's indorsement can't exceed $150,000. The Navassa Gompany will force the stockholders of the Navassa Company will force the ereditors to probe their relations with these corporations. Mr. Keene said that there were 100,000 tons of phosphate deposits at Navassa ready for shipmant, in which it might be found that Lawton had a large interest, although ostensivity there was no subscriber to the two millions of stock in that company. The position attributed to the stockholders that Lawton in indorsing the name of the company acted contrary to the rule of the company, which allowed the secretary only to make such indorsement, Mr. Keene said the rule would bind the officers or stockholders, who had knowledge of it, but not the public, who dealt in good faith with Lawton as president, who had an apparent power. Mr. Keene thought that prudent business men would desire to avoid grave legal issues rather than compel creditors to raise them; that attachments to enforce satisfaction could be issued in Baltimore without bond, as the debtor corporation—the Navassa' in the South had no alternative but to meet their obligations promptly, or compel the syndicate of the creditors to force insolvent proceedings against the Navassa Company and all its offspring associations, causing a ruinous litigation which could only result in the establishment of the stockholders' legal obligation upon Lawton's paper and cripple their prosperous enterprises. Mr. Keene said that the gentlemen at the head of the various stockholding debtors in the Southern enterprises of the Navassa Company, who were well known to him, were gentlemen from the nord John Henry Keene, jr., of Baltimore, counsel of the New-York banks holding the indorsement of the Navassa

ERNING COMMITTEE'S ACTION. The announcement that Thomas C. Deremus had been reinstated as a member of the Stock Exchange was received yesterday with various expressions of opinion. No personal objections to Mr. Doremus were presented. He challenge to match a horse as yet eligible to the 2:18 class to trot a race against Nathan Straus's Majoica, mile heats, personal objections to Mr. Doremus were presented. He was suspended about fifteen months ago on the ground that he had entered into a business partnership with Henry S. Ives, and that the association was against the best interests of the Exchange. He had applied several times to have this decision modified, but without success. The vote of the Governing Committee on Wednesday was a good deal of a surprise It was not piain, at once, why Mr. Doremus should be reinstated when he had continued a pattureship officially declared to be obnoxious. The vote of the Governing Committee was about 3 to 1, although several members known to be opposed to the reinstatement were absent.

The president and secretary of the Exchange positively refused to make known the reasons that had controlled the vote. The most that they would say was that no fault had been laid at the feet of the firm, which was in good standing. Mr. Ives, the head of the firm, had repented in more or less of sackcloth and ashes the mistakes of his youth. The errors were serious, but the repentance was sincere. It was reported that one member of the committee resigned his piace as soon as the result of the vote was made known.

Mr. Doremus did not go into the Exchange yesterday. An old broker said, when asked if the reinstated member had made his appearance: "Why should he come on the floor! Any man in his place would simply sue the Exchange for damages. If I am not mistaken, the courtal have upheld Sewall and Huteninson. The member ship which Mr. Doremus holds by vote of the Governing Committee is werth from $25,000 to $30,000. The suit he might bring is worth at least four times that sum."

A prominent member of the Exchange, formerly a member of the committee, said: "The Brin is not more virtuous than the head of it. The committee says in effect that a firm may be honest even if one of the members is a long way from being so."

Schofield, president of the Institution, presided Lacutenant Zalinski said that the pneumatic dynamite gun had been invented to project large charges of high explosives with safety and accuracy. The first of these guns was of two-inch calibre, length twenty-eight feet, and was invented by Mr. Mefford in 1883, and brought to Fort Hamilton for experiment in 1884. It had been the rule in the United States to deery American inventions and neglect to adopt them until they had recoived foreign approval. Was it not about time, he asked, for Americans to judge independently of their merit? [Applause] He had repeatedly deprecated and denied that this gun, which was generally spoken of as "Zalinski's gun." was his invention lie claimed, however, that he had given some direction to its development as a practical military appliance. In conclusion he said:

THIS NEIGHBORHOOD.

The Boston Lesgue baseball club and the Brooklyn nine played their second game at Washington Park yesterday.

Over 3,000 spectators were present in spite of the disagreeable weather, and as the contest was one of the best-played of the season there was much excitement. The Boston men outbatted and outfielded their opponents and won after the hardest kind of a battle. In the ninth inning the spectators batted and outfielded their opponents and won after the hardest kind of a battle. In the ninth inning the spectators stood on their feet and yelled and the noise could be heard blocks away from the park.

The final inning was begun with the score at 2 to 1 in favor of the visiting players. McCleilan, the first striker, sent the ball down toward first base and near the foul line. The unipire said nothing as the ball rolled out of the other of first baseman Morrill and into the crowd in right field. McCleilan was making the circuit of the bases like a race horse while Keily was fighting his way through the crowd to get at the ball. When he finally captured it and sent it foward third base, McCleilan the way through the crowd to get at the ball. When he finally captured it and sent it foward third base, McCleilan there who ball home, but McCleilan had reached the goal in safety. Then a wrangle began between Unipire Knight, Keily, Swartwood, McCleilan and Morrill. The hoston men were convinced that the ball had struck to the right of first base and was a foul, while the Brooklyn nins were equally positive that the ball had struck fair and that the run consequently counted. The spectators screamed, stamped and acted like maniacs generally, when the unpure of have been field.

The crowd showed their disapproval of the decision with howls of indignation, but aithough the gathered around the unpire at the end of the game, their traces as black as storm clouds, no one made an attempt of the decision with remarkable force throughou and was supported in a model manner, not a fielding error being made by the Boston med.

The game was begun in the most energetic manner and the

The Jersey City and Manhattan College clubs played at Jersey City yesterday before a good-sized crowd. The professionals outplayed their opponents at every point and won easily. The score was:

The New York and Metropolitan clubs will play the second game in the local championship series at the Polo Grounds to-day.

Chicago has virtually wan the apring series between the Chicago and St. Louis clubs. With vesterday's game Chicago has four victories and only two defeats.

O'Brien, the centre fielder of the Jersey City club, was badly injured in yesterday's game and was forced to retire. Shaw took his place.

The Brooklyn players will have a holiday to-day to rest themselves for the opening of the championship season, which takes place to-morrow. The Metropolitan and Brooklyn clubs will open the season at Washington Yark.

Pitcher McCormick was seen in tooklyn yesterday. He is as determined as ever not to sign with the Chicago club.

Director Billings, of the Boston club, showed a Truntukn reporter yesterday the original $10,001 check which Hoston pad Chicago for Kelly, the player. This looks as if the Boston club really pad the price.
